Tax correspondence between the chairman of the Knights of Labor Executive Committee and Mr. Hoxie is instructive as showing how Mr. Gould is hedged about and is prepared to resist the demands of the workmen employed upon the railroads that conrprise his system. Mr. Hoxie has nothing to do with the management of the Texas and Pacific railroad, and therefore could not do otherwise than he has. But the Knights of Labor have not exhausted their resources. They can appeal to Mr. Gould himself, and we trust they will. We are curious to know if his answer will be as sententious and pointed as "the people be damned."

THE failure of Mr. Galbreath, the particulars of which we publish this morning, will call out a unanimous expression of regret from the people of Memphis. No man out of public life is better known or more generally respec ed and esteemed. For twenty-five years he has been prominent among the leading merchants of the city, and in all that time has been regarded as one of the most intelligent and sagacious, tiberal te a fault, generous to a degree and public-spirited beyond the power of most of his contemporaries. To the cotton trade of the country at large he is well-and favorably known, and by the planters in the region contributory to Memphis is regarded with confidence as an upright, honest man. Failure is a word of direct import. It is leaded with despendency. But so true and good a heart as that of Mr. Galbreath will find a generous measure of inspiration in the good will of his friends, and he will, no doubt, take heart of hope and push on to the front again. His knowledge of cotton is the equivalent of a large capital; it is one that he can bank upon with security. We hope to chronicle very soon that he is again upon his feet rejoicing in a business equal to his merits. Nor since 1782 have the Irish people been able to celebrate St. Patrick's anniversary so joyously and hepefully as they will to-day wherever two or three of them can gather together. Never since the hated act of Union, so fatal to the pride and dignity of Ireland and to its place in civilization, have the people of that Niobe of nations been able to descry even the faint glimpses of hope. It has been so long, so often deferred that the hearts of many generations have sunk in despondency and g'oom and have passed away in sadness and sorrow. But, as the constant dripping of water wears away the stone, so continued to become a law. agitation for three-quarters of a century, under leaders of influence and varying power, has at last culminated in a promise by the greatest of England's Prime Ministers, past or present, of national autonomy, of home rule, of legislative independence. All of Ireland's discontent and twothirds of her crime has grown out of her political subordination and the cruelly vindictive, malicious and purposed destruction of her trade, her mechanical skill and her manufacturing industries Never was national jealousy, the seed and source of all crimes, carried to such extremes as by successive English Parliaments in crushing Ireland, as Jno. Boyle O'Reilly so plainly showed in the address published in last Monday's APPEAL, And as in the case of the Jews, the most intellectual of races, it was cunningly devised with a view to blot out utterly all love of tradition, of literature and of language and every trait that distinguishes the Irish as a nation. But, as with the Jews and Poles, it only served to make the race feeling a clinging memory that was an incentive to closer communion and greater tenacity of purpose. As every blow of the hammer anneals still more closely and closer the keen and tensile quality of the steel, so every sumptuary law intensified the love of fatherland and knit Irishmen together in closer bonds of unity of purpose to free that land and make her worthy to be named with her sister kingdom for intelligence, for thrift, and the people for self-direction and elevation of purpose. And at last it has come to pass that English publicists, English Parliamentarians and an English ministry concedes the justice of home a bill to provide for the appointment rule, and it is presently to become of a commission to report on the coathe great question in Parliament with an honestly avowed purpose by tions.

INVALID NOTES. STONE'S CABINET.

The House Committee on Invalid Pensions held a long session traight, at which it, considered the the bill of Mr. Stephenson to increase the rate of pension for the loss of a leg or an arm; to increase the rate of pension for the loss of an eye, and the Elleberry bill to pension all honorably discharged soldiers incapacitated from performing manual labor. The latter bill was so amended as to provide that honorably discharged soldiers who served nine y days during the war and who are or may become disabled from performing manual labor, unless such disability was occasioned by their own gross carelessness or vicious habitr, shall be entitled to a pension, and in that form was ordered to be reported to the House. The bill to increase the rate of pension for the loss of an eye was also ordered to be reported favorably. The other two measures were laid over for farther

NOMINATIONS.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate: Wm.,L. Trenbolm of South Carolina, now a Civil Service Commissioner, to be Comptroller of the Currency in the place of Henry W. Cannon, resigned: John H. Oberly of Illinois, to be a Civil Service Commissioner in the place of William L. Trenholm, nom-inated to be Comptroller of the Currency; Charles Lyman of Connecticut, now Chief Examiner of the Civil Service Commission, to be a Civil Service Commissioner in the place of Dorman

B. Eaton, resigned.

The President said that the three men named were selected without recommendations, and solely on his own personal knowledge of their char-acter and capacity. All of them now are in the public service, and all have by their performance of duty at-attracted his attention and furnished him personal evidence of their emi-nent fitness for the duties of the offices for which they are named, and what he regarded as all important, their appreciation of the needs of the public service.

IMPORTANT LAND DECISION The Secretary of the Interior has rendered a decision in the case of Jas. Brittin, reversing the decision of the Commissioner of the General Land Office of November 12, 1885, which held that, as under section 2261, Revised Statutes, a person was entitled to but one pre-emption right, he could not, after perfecting one pre-emption right, be permitted to commute a homestead entry into a cash entry, under section 2301, Revised Statutes, as this would be equivalent to a second exercise of the same right. In respect to the interests involved this decision is regarded by the Land Office officials as the most important public lands decision—made by the Interior Department in many years.

Mr. Milburn, chaplain of the House, conducted a brief funeral service over the remains of Representative Hahn of Louisiana this afternoon, after which the remains were placed on the 5:30 o'clock train for New Orleans, where the funeral services will be held. The Wreck of the Oregon.

New York, March 16.-The committee of the Oregon's passengers ap-pointed at yesterday's meeting to take steps to recover the value of their property, called at the Cunard Line office this morning and left a statement of their grievances. The diver who visited the wreck yesterday found one bale of cotton and one case of dry goods. The Merritt Coast Wrecking Company will make a report in regard to raising the wreck of the Oregon, but as she lies in 120 feet of water it is hardly thought probable that the steamer will be raised. The cargo, engines and the valuable parts of the vessel, however, will be brought

Later. - The diver sent to the scene of the Oregon wreck yesterday got back to New York this morning, and re-ports that the Oregon is broken in and that pieces of cargo from her hold are coming to the surface. His theory is that she broke in two when the bow struck the bottom. Specta-tors say that the Oregon bounded as she struck the bottom and then sank again. The only thing now to be done with her will be to blow up the hulk in the hope of allowing the cargo to be fished up. The depth is such that diving operations can only be carried on in very calm weather, if at The Merritt Wrecking Company now have several bo ts near the wreck, watching for freight that may come to the surface, and making such examination of the wreck as is possi-No signs of wreckage from schooner have been seen, not even a

A BAD BREAK IN MR. GLAD-

Chamberlaio and frevelyan Resign-Speculations as to Their Successors.

Lonson, March 16.—Despite all the ories to the contrary, it is learned to-day authoritatively that both Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, President of the Local Government Board, and Mr. Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, have placed their resignation in the hands Mr. Cladetee. The President of of Mr. Gladstone. The Premier has, however, declined to accept the resig-nations. His answer to the tender of them was a conciliatory one. He sug gested to both gentlemen that they defer final decisions on the resigna-tions until after a personal discussion of the question at issue between him and them. To this both Mr. Cham-berlain and Mr. Trevelyan have assented. It is now known that the subject of dispute between the Prime Minister and Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Trevelyan is Wr. Gladstone's Irish expropriation scheme. The exact sum which will be required to buy out all the land owners of the country according to the Premier's plan is £150,000,000 sterling. The proposi-tion to increase the public debt of Great Britain that much in order to purchase peace in Ireland is claimed by the Radical leaders in the Cabinet to be asking too much for what will be obtained. There was to have been a special meeting of the Cabinet to-day. It has, however, been postponed for the purpose of giving the resigning Ministers time for reflection, in the hope that both will change their minds. Their personal friends decla of that neither Mr. Chamberlain nor Mr. Trevelyan will alter his purpose of refusing to participate in a government which is to be responsible for Mr. Gladstone's Irish land scheme.

SPECULATIONS. There was much speculation in the lobby of the House of Commons this evening as to who would be the suc-cessors of Messrs. Chamberlain and Trevelyan in the Cabinet. Of the gentlemen mentioned for the places, Messrs. Fowler, Sellar and Borlaz are thought to have the best chances of being selected. Although it is expected that Mr. Parnell's support of Mr. Glad-stone will be solid, it is expected that Mr. Chamberlain will secure a large following. Messrs, Chamberlain and Trevelyan left the House after the dis-posal of the questions on the notice

The Irish National League, Dublis, March 16.—At the regular fortnightly meeting of the National League here, the Lord Mayor presiding, Mr. Timothy Harrington, treasurer of the Parliamentary Fund, an-nounced that since the last meeting there had been received from the cifferent branches of the league in Ire-land $2089, and from Canada and Massachusetts $1445. The Lord Mayor stated that, despite the utmost exer-tions of the league, it had been found an impossibility to entirely suppress agrarian outrages in the remoter dis-tricts of the country, and he believed that nothing would ever prevent their occurrence until the country had its land system placed upon an entirely different basis than that upon which it now rests. Continuing, his lordship said that he had reason to believe that Mr. Gladstone desired to heal the long standing troubles of the Irish people. The very threats which the Orangemen made to resist home rule, should it be accorded Ireland justified that feeling entertained toward them and their English supporters by the great bulk of the Irish, people, and which was sometimes pronounced to be disloyalty. A mem-ber of the Dublin Chamber of Commerce has given notice of his intention to summon a meeting of the Chamber to enter a protest against the action of the Earl of Aberdeen, the Irish Viceroy, in shaking hands with Michael Davitt, and the recent meeting at the Mansion House to consider measures for the relief of the distressed people in Dablin.

The German Reichstag. Benlin, March 16 .- The committee the Reichstag to which the bill providing for the prolongation of the anti-Socialist law was referred, after taking unfavorable action on the amendments offered by Dr. Windthorst, have rejected the whole bill.

The committee which has under consideration Prince Bismarck's spirit monopoly bill, and which last week rejected the first two clauses, to-day voted against the remaining clauses of the bill, thus defeating the entire measure.

Earl Paulett's Sespegrace Son. London, March 16.—Viscount Hinton, the scapegrace son of Earl Paulett, and who, to revenge himself upon his father for refusing to pay the young man's debts, recently took a circus to Crewkerne, the earl's vil-lage, advertising it as "Viscount Hin-ton's Unrivalled Show," was to day sentenced to one year's imprisonment at hard labor for obtaining goods by means of false pretenses

The Coming Consistory Roseg, March 16 .- It is officially announced that at the coming consistory, to be held on April 12 next, the following dignitaries of the church will be made cardinals: Archbishop Tassheau of Quebee, Archbishop Gib-bons of Baltimore, Monsignor Ferrata nuncio at Vienna, Monsignor DeRoude nuncio at Paris, Mensignor Rampalla Del Tendaro nuncio at Madrid, Mon-signor Massella, formerly nuncio at Lisbon. The Bahama islands which have hitherto been in the Catholic diocese of Charleston, will henceforth be in the diocese of New York. Attempts.

CHATTANO:GA, TENN., March 16.—A remarkable suicide occurred at Washington, in Rhea county, Tennessee, to-day. Thomas Houston, a wealthy farmer, while laboring under a fit of mental aberration jumped into a well, but the water being to a sallow to drown him he climbed out and then attempted to end his existence by dashing out his brains sgatust a stable. He maie a second failure and finally succeeded in taking his life by hang-ing himself.
